

Teachers on the Estuary

A National Estuarine Research Reserve program

Teachers on the Estuary "TOTE" Investigating Changing Environments

August 3-5, 2016

9:00am-4:30pm

Hosted by the Great Bay National Estuarine Research Reserve at their Great Bay Discovery Center in Greenland, NH

Who: Designed for middle and high school teachers

Learn: Field and research-based professional development integrating STEM core ideas, practices and activities.

Connect: Aligned with NGSS frameworks; explore coastal habitats and field investigations; bring local and national data into your classroom; learn techniques for guiding student investigations

Free and Fun! Includes kayak tour, trip on NH Fish and Game's research vessel, lunch and a $200 stipend! A $50 deposit is required and will be refunded upon completion of this course.

CEU certificates provided

Space is limited: Contact Kelle Loughlin, Education Coordinator: Kelle.Loughlin@wildlife.nh.gov or call (603) 778-0015 for more info and to register.

www.GreatBay.org

This work is/was sponsored by the National Estuarine Research Reserve System Science Collaborative, which supports collaborative research that addresses coastal management